GATHERING AT LOGAN IS RECORD-BREAKER

Attendance at Roundup and Conference Largest in Institution's History.

MUCH GOOD IS DONE

Present Week's Programme
Full of Interest; Many Prominent Speakers.

Special to The Tribune.

UTAH AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Logan, Feb. 2.—The week just closed at the Utah Agricultural college has been without doubt one of the busiest weeks in the history of the institution. The big farmers' roundup and housekeepers' conference, which are now in session at the college, have demonstrated beyond the possibility of a doubt that the farmers not only of Utah, but of southern Idaho and western Wyoming, together with their wives, are fully alert to the many advantages offered them on an occasion of this kind. The registration shows visitors from points as far north as Pocatello, Draper, on the south, and from several of the rural settlements in central and western Wyoming.

The past week was marked by a series of discussions led by some of the most competent authorities in the west upon questions in which the farmers and housekeepers of this section are intensely interested. One of the features of the week was the unprecedented attendance of women at the housekeepers' conference. While the roundup of the past has been of prime importance to the farmers and agriculturalists, the sessions of the housekeepers' conference, which is running contemporaneously with the roundup, are vying in interest with the sessions of the men.

The subjects discussed at the conference cover the general problems of woman's sphere and are not confined to any one line. The result has been that the women are learning in their own effort to be devoted to learning how to prepare foodstuffs for the sterner sex, but suggestions which go far to make her lot pleasanter have been freely given during the past week.

Many Subjects Treated.

Among the subjects discussed were economy and factors in the use of foods. Monday was devoted to the exhibit of demonstrations by college experts and others, better crops of boys and girls, some phases of art in the home, demonstrations in the making and cutting of clothing, diseases of children, labor-saving devices, etc.

The coming week promises to be characterized by an increased interest in attendance in both divisions of the gathering at Logan. The women's work will be given to the exhibit of electrical devices at the institution. Both of the night sessions have been adjourned to make way for the big athletic pageant which will be given in the college gymnasium. Tuesday evening a reception will be given to the farmers and their wives, and the sessions of the housekeepers' conference will be held each morning, afternoon and evening.

DIGITALIS AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE

There are more cases of Bright's disease on Digitalis and Basham's Mixture than anything else. One is for the heart and the other is an iron tonic. Yet the case is chronic the books admit the outcome will be failure. Then why give them? Because there is nothing in the pharmacopoeia to counteract degeneration in the kidneys which is the real trouble and by holding up the heart and giving a tonic the patient may last a little longer. But is it not clear that if an agent has been worked out that counteracts renal degeneration and thus permits the system to assimilate the albumen that there is hope? That is the motive of Fulton's Renal Compound. The result has not been reached by the pharmacopoeia. That is why this result can be proven by any chemist with a little Ploric and Citric Acid.

We know of no chronic cases recovering under Digitalis and Basham's Mixture without Fulton's Renal Compound, but thousands are getting better under the Renal Compound without Digitalis or Basham's Mixture. But they can be continued if necessary. There is no conflict. Schramm-Johnson, Druggist, "The New Substitutors," five (5) good stores, is agent. Ask for pamphlet or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco, California. (Advertisement.)

PREACHES SERMON AT ROOSTER CAMP

Minister Stands on Beer Case and Delivers a Telling Address.

Special to The Tribune.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 2.—Mounted on a beer case in the barroom of the St. Francis hotel, in the new mining camp of Rochester, where hundreds of fortune-seekers are flocking daily because of recent discoveries of valuable ore bodies, the Rev. J. W. Hendricks, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, delivered the first sermon in the new camp which is springing into being in the past few weeks.

The St. Francis hotel is the first hotel to be erected in the camp. From the day it opened its doors for the first time, it has been the scene of midnight revels and open gambling for big stakes. The Rev. Mr. Adams, who was formerly connected with settlement work in the slums of New York, and who held services in the Midnight mission in the Bowery, New York, was not unaccustomed to the scenes which he witnessed in the rough mining camp. In the saloons were men stupefied with liquor, sleeping on the floor, hanging helplessly over barrels and nodding in chairs drawn up to the stove.

As the minister mounted the beer case the gamblers paused in their play, the dissolute women ceased their appeals and the drunken men huddled in corners, listening attentively. Two dogs started a fight, but were thrown into the street. The bartender introduced the clergyman, who told of his experiences in the slums of New York when he was engaged in the Midnight mission. He held out to the fallen the gospel of the second chance. He made a direct appeal to the feelings of the rough miners who faced him in the barroom, soaked and smoke-filled barroom. He told of instances where men sunk to the lowest depths of depravity and had pulled themselves together and made good.

Before the meeting closed the rough miners joined in song and with hoarse voices made the rafters ring. It was the first religious service held in what promises to be the greatest mining camp in the West. Rev. Mr. Adams is a native of Rochester, N. Y., and is one of the leading reformers in the state of Nevada.

NEW BRIDGE NEEDED.

Legislature Will Be Asked to Provide for Structure at Salmon City.

SALMON CITY, Idaho, Feb. 2.—Application will be made to the legislature at Boise for state aid toward building a bridge across the Salmon river in this county. The Salmon river has reported to the board of county commissioners that the present bridge is in poor condition. A new bridge is needed to connect the town of Salmon with the rest of the county. The proposed new bridge will be of steel girder construction, 450 feet long, 30 feet wide, with 8-foot sidewalks on each side. There will be three spans, with concrete piers and abutments. The estimated cost is about $40,000.

Local mining men are jubilant over the outlook for the coming season. From all parts of the county come reports of increased activity in prospecting and mining. The Gibbonsville district, with the A. D. M. property and reduction works, the Zortman mines and several others, will be actively working. The Zortman mine has been equipped with a Chilian mill and large capacity plant. Word comes from Yellow Jacket that some big undertakings will be started in that camp. In the Copper River country, adjacent to the Climax, is opening up a good vein of which about thirty inches is high grade, principally silver and copper. The big section of the Climax is believed to be an immense porphyry dyke carrying gold values.

Four miles west of Salmon, the Golden Rule property is turning out remarkably well, according to recent reports. At the Climax, some indications are that the present heavy shipments will be largely increased.

More Paving in View.
Special to The Tribune.
POCATELLO, Idaho, Feb. 2.—The city council, by ordinance No. 23, declares its intention of paving a new district classed as district No. 3. The paving will be done by the city engineer, and the work will be given to the city engineer. The new district is located south of the intersection of West Main street and Center street, and north of the intersection of West Main street and Center street, and north of the intersection of West Main street and Center street.

Commissioners Meet.
Special to The Tribune.
POCATELLO, Idaho, Feb. 2.—The Bannock county commissioners adjourned yesterday after a session lasting nearly two weeks. The session was one of the most successful in the history of the county business. The commissioners were held in session for nearly two weeks, and a special meeting will be held in the near future. It is expected that the matter of rebuilding the Tilden bridge will be settled at that time. A meeting of the county road board will be held at the same time for the discussion of road matters. The session was held in a convention where road experts will talk and machinery will be demonstrated. The efficiency of road machines.

Big Potato Shipments.
Special to The Tribune.
POCATELLO, Idaho, Feb. 2.—Harry E. Godwin, district freight agent for the north in the Idaho Falls district, has been there in the interests of the potato shippers, who have been handicapped on account of a shortage of cars. Godwin says there still remains about 30,000 carloads to be shipped from the district north of here, but that at present there is an abundance of cars available. Sixty Pacific Fruit Express cars were sent to that district yesterday to be loaded at once.

according to law. The company objected and finally appealed the case to the supreme court of the United States, which tribunal decided against the company. Then the company requested its commissioners, George Winters, superintendent of the company, and Alex Murray, assistant superintendent.

The cause for citation is that the law requires the commissioners to be taxpayers. For this reason the conferences which were started a few days ago between the commissioners and W. Haverford and J. H. Tensard, representing the city, were discontinued with the result stated. Meanwhile a fine of $100 per day was levied against the company for not obeying the law and appointing its commissioners. This at present amounts to more than $40,000, which will be collected by a suit, if at all.

TERMINAL FIGHT ON.
Spanish Fork and Provo Are in Contest Over Utah Railway Headquarters.

Special to The Tribune.
PROVO, Feb. 2.—One of the largest meetings held in Provo for some time will be held in the Commercial club rooms here Monday evening to settle the question of the location of the Utah Railroad company between here and Spanish Fork canyon. Unless the people of Provo and Spanish Fork can raise the money or find a way to settle the question, it will go to Spanish Fork and that city will become the terminal of this road.

The original survey for the road was to Spanish Fork, but since that survey was made the Provo Commercial club has been working to bring the terminal, machine shops and other buildings connected with this road to Provo. It has been a hard fight and the question will be finally decided Monday evening. Chairman W. H. Ray of the right of way committee will give a report which will set forth the cost of the right of way and state the number of deeds that have been secured and the number held in escrow. L. C. Kerr of the Utah railway will be present to look after the company's interest and will present a number of blue prints and surveys which he has made since the contest began. W. H. Spaulding of the finance committee will also report as to how much money has been raised for this undertaking.

STEEL TRADE SHOWS SIGNS OF DECLINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—January was quite a satisfactory month in the steel trade, although the volume of new business was scarcely equal to the current specifications, but specifications were heavy. The mill output for the month was between 90 and 95 per cent of total capacity.

The railroads placed orders for equipment in January for nearly 900,000 tons of steel products, but little more than half of this tonnage was placed with the steel companies. Contracts still are pending for rails, cars and locomotives calling for 1,200,000 tons additional.

Each week additional orders were placed for an aggregate of 2500 cars and sixty locomotives. The fabricating shops booked orders for about 12,000 tons, including 3300 tons for railroad work. Car manufacturers placed orders for about 60,000 tons of steel plates and shapes for the month of January. Bills for shipments over ten months.

Order of Owls.
Salt Lake nest, Order of Owls, No. 1271, held its regular meeting Wednesday night with many present. Two were added to the nest and twelve applications were accepted. The dance committee reported that all arrangements were made for the social dance which will be given on February 12, at the Moose hall. Organizer T. D. Ryan, who has been at Provo for the last month, reported that he would be ready to install the new nest on February 11. The Salt Lake nest will go down on that night and install the new nest. All are requested to be present at the next meeting on February 6. Visiting Owls are invited.

Royal Highlanders.
The last meeting of the lodge was held with an enthusiastic crowd, each and all vying to promote the interests of the committee reports were listened to with marked attention. The ladies auxiliary's first of a series of card parties Wednesday afternoon was held in the lodge room, Mackintosh building. The next card party will be given February 12. HUDSON BAY FUR COATS DAMAGED BY WATER

The fire which completely cleaned out the dentists' offices just over our store last Thursday night caused us considerable grief also. Gallons of water came pouring through the ceiling and yards of plaster came piling down on our furs. Though the damage was only by water, which really does not injure good furs, still we were to a certain extent reimbursed by the Insurance Companies, and are offering the furs that were Wet at consequently much greater reductions.

Fur Coats Sacrificed

Especially heavy was the damage to fur coats, and we've marked them down to way below bedrock for quick clearance, as we cannot carry them over the season. We give seven examples here of how this unexpected effect has been turned to our advantage.

Hudson's coat, rare quality; worth $225; sale $95.00
Self-striped fancy mink coat; worth $200; sale $85.00
Nearseal coat; worth $125; sale $69.50
Extra Hudson seal coat; worth $330; sale $195.00
